

VACANCY

Approval Expert

Are you a motivated technician who likes a flat and informal culture? Do you want to work with high-end innovative technologies for customers worldwide? Then you should meet NMI!

WHAT YOU WILL BE DOING

As an Approval Expert you evaluate measuring instruments for international manufacturers who would like a (worldwide) certification. Together with a team of colleagues you are responsible for these type of conformity tests, which can also include testing or an audit in the factory of the manufacturer. You record the results in a recommendation or test report. Your investigations can lead to national or international admission of the measuring instrument based on regulations, including associated interpretations (Metrology Act, MID, Welmec, OIML, IEC, EN etc.). At each moment you have about 10 projects to work on which can vary from a small paperwork project to a complete evaluation of a measurement instrument.

You have intensive contact with your customers and you ensure that they are fully satisfied and informed about the project status. A mentor will guide you in this varied and knowledge-intensive role so that over time you and your team can become responsible for all projects in your field.

WHAT WE ASK FROM YOU

You have a Bachelor's degree, preferably in the field of Electrical engineering or Physics. You can set up and perform tests in our laboratories. You can evaluate the test data and make a final assessment of it. You have a proficient knowledge of the English language to communicate with customers all over the world. You are organized and can work towards a deadline. Furthermore, you know something of the business of our customer and you actively respond to that. You enjoy working in technology to deepen and share professional knowledge, not only with your colleagues but also at a national and international level. You can regularly be on the road for test projects and consultancy work (approx. 10 to 20% of your time). You are proud that you are part of a globally recognized organization.

WHAT CAN YOU EXPECT FROM NMI?

NMI is a service and customer-oriented organization where technology predominates. You work with committed and motivated colleagues and there is space to implement your ideas and initiatives. We value personal growth and have the NMI Academy to develop yourself.
